

Carlos Martín Beristain, doctor of medicine and psychology, who has been working for 25 years on integral attention of victims of human rights violations and their families. His experience includes coordinating the “Guatemala: Never Again!” report, as well as work in Colombia with victims of the internal armed conflict; in Peru, Paraguay y Ecuador with the Truth Commissions of those countries; and in the Sahara with victims of forced disappearance and their families. He is experienced in the attention of victims and survivors of violence, and in preparing expert testimonies for psychosocial evaluation and investigations on reparations.

Angela Buitrago, a Colombian, is a lawyer and holds a Ph.D. in Law and Sociology, with specialization in Criminal Law and Criminological Science; she has a Master’s Degree in Criminal Law; and is a Professor at the Externado University in Colombia. Between 2005 and 2010 she was a delegate prosecutor before the Supreme Court of Justice where she worked on cases such as the disappearances in the Palace of Justice of Colombia; the former Governor of the Meta Department, regarding the murder of three Political leaders; the former Governor of Casanare for corruption; a former Senator for his alleged relationship with the paramilitaries; communications espionage of the Administrative Security Department (DAS), among many others.

Francisco Cox Vial, a Chilean lawyer, holds an LL.M from Columbia University, and is a Professor of Constitutional Law for the Diego Portales University, and a Professor of public interest clinics and human rights. He litigates criminal and constitutional cases, and has worked pro bono on cases before the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights and the Inter-American Court of Human Rights. He has also worked in support of the extradition of General Pinochet to Spain, served as principal Advisory to the Executive Director of the Inter-American Human Rights Institute.

Claudia Paz y Paz, a national of Guatemala, is a lawyer who was appointed in 2010 to be the first female Attorney General of her country. She is an expert in criminal law who served as a judge for 18 years, and was praised for the aggressive investigation of organized crime in Guatemala. During her tenure as Attorney General, several cases of human rights violations before the justice system advanced and resulted in the conviction of the perpetrators, especially in the case of former dictator Efraín Ríos Montt, for his role in the genocide of the Mayan people. She has received several human rights awards and currently lives in the United States, where she is a Resident Scholar.