Statement on the 10th Anniversary of the Tom Lantos Human Rights Commission

December 10, 2018

On behalf of World Vision and our 45,000 employees around the globe, I would like to congratulate and thank the Tom Lantos Human Rights Commission for 10 years of steadfast work promoting human rights. Whether working to ensure freedom from religious persecution and the rights of political dissidents, or highlighting grievous atrocities in every corner of the world, the Lantos Commission has stood firm in working for a better, safer, more just world that recognizes the dignity and value of every human being, made in their Creator's image. World Vision is grateful for the leadership of Representatives McGovern and Hultgren, and for the commitment of their fellow commission members and staff, in serving both the American people and our brothers and sisters around the world on such important issues. We thank you and look forward to continuing to work alongside the Tom Lantos Human Rights Commission for years to come.
